

ABSTRACT

This invention generally relates to a mat or pad for a pet to lie on. More specifically this invention relates to a pet pad with a recorder and playback unit embedded within said pet pad such that each time the pet lies on the pad a prerecorded message from the pet's owner is played. The owner's voice heard each time the pet lies on its pad can be very comforting to a pet home alone or in a strange environment such as a kennel or veterinarian's office.
